Sirius Point For Serious Investors

SIRIUS POINT ADVISORS, INC.

April 20, 2017

Dear Shareholders of the Sirius S&P Strategic Large-Cap Allocation Fund:

The Sirius S&P Strategic Large-Cap Allocation Fund seeks long-term growth and preservation of capital through investment in large cap equity and index-based funds. A portion of the Fund may be in cash and cash equivalents to preserve capital, awaiting investment opportunities. The Fund can utilize leverage in advancing markets and short in retreating markets, although this activity may cause the NAV to fluctuate when the fund is in these positions.

The fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 was a year of surprises, upsets, and opportunities. The S&P Index moved up from the early 2016 lows with shallow pull-backs which are in keeping with an advancing bull market, but the pull-backs were unusual in how shallow they were. During many of them, the market showed range-bound activity, making entry into a position challenging. Once the election results were in, though, the S&P 500 quickly moved out of its range-bound behavior and advanced higher, reaching a new all-time high in 2017. The advance has been termed the 'Trump Rally', as has been seen in many reports on the market rise since the election.

After the most recent advance, the S&P 500 pulled back and has again become range-bound, staying true to form, but this is also a pattern that we believe has risk commonly seen during local topping periods. Because of this, the Fund has taken a defensive stance to preserve capital. However, it is our belief that the rally is not complete and that higher levels remain to be seen this year. Once higher levels are attempted, we expect to see another pull-back. The Fund is anticipating the expected market activity, watching for entry points in either an advancing market or a retreating one that will allow the Fund to pursue returns.

Returns for the Fund are listed below:

Notes to Financial Statements

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

The Sirius S&P Strategic Large-Cap Allocation Fund (the "Fund") is a series of the Starboard Investment Trust (the "Trust"). The Trust is organized as a Delaware statutory trust and is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "1940 Act"), as an open-end management investment company. The Fund is a separate non-diversified series of the Trust.

The Fund commenced operations on October 1, 2014. The investment objective of the Fund is long-term growth and preservation of capital. The Fund's investment advisor, Sirius Point Advisors, Inc. (the "Advisor"), seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing primarily in exchange-traded funds ("ETFs") and secondarily in mutual funds. The Fund is a "fund of funds," which means it invests, under normal circumstances, at least 80% of its net assets (excluding collateral held from securities lending), plus the amount of any borrowings for investment purposes, in ETFs, and mutual funds that hold securities in the S&P 500 Total Return Index and large-cap S&P sectors.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Fund. The policies are in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").

Investment Valuation

Securities listed on an exchange or quoted on a national market system are valued at the last sales price as of 4:00 p.m. Eastern Time. Securities traded in the NASDAQ over-the-counter market are generally valued at the NASDAQ Official Closing Price. Other securities traded in the over-the-counter market and listed securities for which no sale was reported on that date are valued at the mean of the most recent bid and ask prices. Instruments with maturities of 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value. Investments in open-end companies are valued at their respective net asset values as reported by such investment companies. Securities and assets for which representative market quotations are not readily available (e.g. if the exchange on which a security is principally traded closes early or if trading of the particular security is halted during the day and does not resume prior to the Fund's net asset value calculation), or which cannot be accurately valued using the Fund's normal pricing procedures, are valued at fair value as determined in good faith under policies approved by the Trustees. A security's "fair value" price may differ from the price next available for that security using the Fund's normal pricing procedures.

The Fund may invest in portfolios of open-end investment companies (the "Underlying Funds"). The Underlying Funds value securities in their portfolios for which market quotations are readily available at their market values (generally the last reported sale price) and all other securities and assets at their fair value to the methods established by the Board of the Underlying Funds. Open-ended funds are valued at their respective net asset values as reported by such investment companies.

Fair Value Measurement

Various inputs are used in determining the value of the Fund's investments. These inputs are summarized in the three broad levels listed below:

Level 1: unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical securities

Level 2: other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities and identical securities in inactive markets, interest rates, credit risk, etc.)

Level 3: significant unobservable inputs (including the Fund's own assumptions in determining fair value of investments)

The availability of observable inputs can vary from security to security and is affected by a wide variety of factors, including, for example, the type of security, whether the security is new and not yet established in the marketplace, the liquidity of markets, and other characteristics particular to the security. To the extent that valuation is based on models or inputs that are less observable or unobservable in the market, the determination of fair value requires more judgment. Accordingly, the degree of judgment exercised in determining fair value is greatest for instruments categorized in Level 3.

Sirius S&P Strategic Large-Cap Allocation Fund

Notes to Financial Statements

The inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, for disclosure purposes, the level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement falls in its entirety, is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety.

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities. The following table summarizes the inputs as of March 31, 2017 for the Fund's assets measured at fair value:

Investments in Securities (a)	Total	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3
Assets
United States Treasury Bill	$ 49,942	$ -	$ 49,942	$ -
Short-Term Investment	17,212,077	17,212,077	-	-
Total Assets	$ 17,262,019	$ 17,212,077	$ 49,942	$ -

(a) The Fund had no transfers into or out of Level 1, 2, or 3 during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. The Fund did not hold any Level 3 securities during the period. The Fund recognizes transfers at the end of each reporting period.

Investment Transactions and Investment Income

Investment transactions are accounted for as of the date purchased or sold (trade date). Dividend income and expense are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis and includes accretion/amortization of discounts and premiums using the effective interest method. Gains and losses are determined on the identified cost basis, which is the same basis used for Federal income tax purposes.

Expenses

The Fund bears expenses incurred specifically on its behalf as well as a portion of general expenses, which are allocated according to methods reviewed annually by the Trustees.

Distributions

The Fund may declare and distribute dividends from net investment income, if any, annually. Distributions from capital gains, if any, are generally declared and distributed annually. Dividends and distributions to shareholders are recorded on ex-date.

Exchange-Traded Funds

The Fund may invest in exchange-traded funds ("ETFs"). ETFs are a type of index fund bought and sold on a securities exchange. An ETF trades like common stock and represents a fixed portfolio of securities designed to track the performance and dividend yield of a particular domestic or foreign market index. The Fund may purchase an ETF to temporarily gain exposure to a portion of the U.S. or a foreign market while awaiting purchase of underlying securities. The risks of owning an ETF generally reflect the risks of owning the underlying securities they are designed to track, although the lack of liquidity on an ETF could result in it being more volatile. Additionally, ETFs have fees and expenses that reduce their value.

Securities Sold Short

The Fund may sell a security short to increase investment returns. The Fund may also sell a security short in anticipation of a decline in the market value of a security. A short sale is a transaction in which the Fund sells a security that it does not own. To complete the transaction, the Fund must borrow the security in order to deliver it to the buyer. The Fund must replace the borrowed security by purchasing it at market price at the time of replacement; the price may be higher or lower than the price at which the Fund sold the security. The Fund incurs a loss from a short sale if the price of the security increases between the date of the short sale and the date on which the Fund replaces the borrowed security. The Fund realizes a profit if the price of the security declines between those dates.

Notes to Financial Statements

Until the Fund replaces the borrowed security, the Fund will maintain on its books and records cash and long securities to sufficiently cover its short position on a daily basis. The collateral for the securities sold short includes securities held long as shown on the Schedule of Investments. Dividends paid on securities sold short are recorded as an expense on the Fund's Statement of Operations. The total dividend expense on securities sold short for the year ended March 31, 2017 was $15,774.

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in the net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Federal Income Taxes

No provision for income taxes is included in the accompanying financial statements, as the Fund intends to distribute to shareholders all taxable investment income and realized gains and otherwise comply with Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies.

2. Transactions with Related Parties and Service Providers

Advisor

The Fund pays a monthly fee to the Advisor calculated at the annual rate of 1.20% of the Fund's average daily net assets. For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017, $273,104 in advisory fees were incurred by the Fund, of which $55,974 were waived by the Advisor.

The Advisor has entered into a contractual agreement (the "Expense Limitation Agreement") with the Trust, on behalf of the Fund, under which it has agreed to waive or reduce its fees and to assume other expenses of the Fund, if necessary, in amounts that limit the Fund's total operating expenses (exclusive of interest, taxes, brokerage commissions, other expenditures which are capitalized in accordance with GAAP, other extraordinary expenses not incurred in the ordinary course of the Fund's business, and amounts, if any, payable under a Rule 12b-1 distribution plan) to not more than 1.60% of the average daily net assets of the Fund for the current fiscal period. The current term of the Expense Limitation Agreement remains in effect until July 31, 2017. While there can be no assurance that the Expense Limitation Agreement will continue after that date, it is expected to continue from year-to-year thereafter. The Advisor cannot recoup from the Fund any expenses paid by the Advisor under the Expense Limitation Agreement.

Administrator

The Fund pays a monthly fee to the Fund's administrator, The Nottingham Company ("the Administrator"), based upon the average daily net assets of the Fund and calculated at the annual rates as shown in the schedule below which is subject to a minimum of $2,000 per month. The Administrator also receives a fee to procure and pay the Fund's custodian, additional compensation for fund accounting and recordkeeping services, and additional compensation for certain costs involved with the daily valuation of securities and as reimbursement for out-of-pocket expenses. Effective April 15, 2016, the Administrator also receives a miscellaneous compensation fee for peer group, comparative analysis, and compliance support totaling $350 per month. Certain officers of the Trust may also be officers of the Administrator.

3. Distribution and Service Fees

The Trustees, including a majority of the Trustees who are not "interested persons" of the Trust as defined in the 1940 Act and who have no direct or indirect financial interest in such plan or in any agreement related to such plan, adopted a distribution plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 of the 1940 Act (the "Plan"). The 1940 Act regulates the manner in which a regulated investment company may assume expenses of distributing and promoting the sales of its shares and servicing of its shareholder accounts. The Plan provides that the Fund may incur certain expenses, which may not exceed 0.25% per annum of the Fund's average daily net assets for each year elapsed subsequent to adoption of the Plan, for payment to the Distributor and others for items such as advertising expenses, selling expenses, commissions, travel or other expenses reasonably intended to result in sales of shares of the Fund or support servicing of shareholder accounts. For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017, $56,897 in fees were incurred by the Fund.

4. Purchases and Sales of Investment Securities

For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017, the aggregate cost of purchases and proceeds from sales of investment securities (excluding short-term securities and securities sold short) were as follows:

Purchases of Securities	Proceeds from Sales of Securities

There were no long-term purchases or sales of U.S Government Obligations during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

5. Federal Income Tax

Distributions are determined in accordance with Federal income tax regulations, which differ from GAAP, and, therefore, may differ significantly in amount or character from net investment income and realized gains for financial reporting purposes. The general ledger is adjusted for permanent book/tax differences to reflect tax character but is not adjusted for temporary differences.

Management has reviewed the Fund's tax positions to be taken on the federal income tax returns during the open tax years ended 2015 and 2016, and the yet to be filed March 31, 2017 return, and determined that the Fund does not have a liability for uncertain tax positions. The Fund recognizes interest and penalties, if any, related to unrecognized tax benefits as income tax expense in the Statement of Operations. During the fiscal year, the Fund did not incur any interest or penalties.

Distributions during the year ended were characterized for tax purposes as follows:

	March 31, 2017	March 31, 2016
Ordinary Income	$ -	$ 1,366,039

For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017, the following reclassifications were made:

Accumulated Net Investment Loss	$ 322,507

Sirius S&P Strategic Large-Cap Allocation Fund

Notes to Financial Statements

For tax purposes, the current late year losses of $39,450 were realized during the period from January 3, 2017 through March 31, 2017. These losses will be recognized for tax purposes on the first business day of the Fund's next fiscal year, April 1, 2017.

The Fund has a capital loss carryforward of $646,662, which is short-term in nature and has no expiration.

6. Commitments and Contingencies

Under the Trust's organizational documents, its officers and Trustees are indemnified against certain liabilities arising out of the performance of their duties to the Fund. In addition, in the normal course of business, the Trust entered into contracts with its service providers, on behalf of the Fund, and others that provide for general indemnifications. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund. The Fund expects risk of loss to be remote.

7. Underlying Investment in Other Investment Company

The Fund currently invests a significant portion of its assets in the Fidelity Institutional Money Market Funds ("Fidelity Fund"). The Fund may redeem its investment from the Fidelity Fund at any time if the Advisor determines that it is in the best interest of the Fund and its shareholders to do so. The performance of the Fund may be directly affected by the performance of the Fidelity Fund. The financial statements of the Fidelity Fund, including the portfolio of investments, can be found at Fidelity's website www.fidelity.com or the Securities and Exchange Commission's website www.sec.gov and should be read in conjunction with the Fund's financial statements. As of March 31, 2017, the Fund's net assets invested in the Fidelity Fund were 74.00%.

8. Concentration of Risk

At various times, the Fund may have cash, cash collateral, and due from broker balances that exceed federally insured limits. It is the opinion of management that the solvency of the financial institutions are not of a particular concern at the time.

9. New Accounting Pronouncement

On October 13, 2016, the Securities and Exchange Commission amended existing rules intended to modernize reporting and disclosure of information. These amendments relate to Regulation S-X which sets forth the form and content of financial statements. At this time, management is evaluating the implications of adopting these amendments and their impact on the financial statements and accompanying notes.

10. Subsequent Events

The Fund has evaluated the need for disclosures and/or adjustments resulting from subsequent events through the date of issuance of these financial statements. This evaluation did not result in any additional subsequent events that necessitated disclosures and/or adjustments in addition to the disclosure above.

3. Tax Information

We are required to advise you within 60 days of the Fund's fiscal year-end regarding federal tax status of certain distributions received by shareholders during each fiscal year. The following information is provided for the Fund's fiscal year ended March 31, 2017.

During the fiscal year, there were no income distributions and no long-term capital gain distributions paid from the Fund.

Dividend and distributions received by retirement plans such as IRAs, Keogh-type plans, and 403(b) plans need not be reported as taxable income. However, many retirement plans may need this information for their annual information meeting.

4. Schedule of Shareholder Expenses

As a shareholder of the Fund, you incur ongoing costs, including management fees; distribution [and/or service] (12b-1) fees; and other Fund expenses. This Example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The Example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the entire period from October 1, 2016 through March 31, 2017.

Actual Expenses – The first line of the table below provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (e.g., an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During Period" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison Purposes – The second line of the table below provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds.

Additional Information (Unaudited)

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as sales charges (loads), redemption fees, or exchange fees. Therefore, the second line of the table is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

	Beginning Account Value October 1, 2016	Ending Account Value March 31, 2017	Expenses Paid During Period*
Actual	$1,000.00	$1,017.20	$9.95
Hypothetical (5% annual return before expenses)	$1,000.00	$1,015.06	$9.94

*Expenses are equal to the average account value over the period multiplied by the Fund's annualized expense ratio of 1.98%, including dividend expense for the period, multiplied by 182/365 (to reflect the six month period).

5. Approval of Advisory Agreement

The Advisor supervises the Fund's investments pursuant to an Investment Advisory Agreement. At a quarterly meeting of the Fund's Board of Trustees on March 9, 2017, the Trustees approved the Investment Advisory Agreement for another term through April 24, 2018. In considering whether to approve the Investment Advisory Agreement, the Trustees reviewed and considered the information they deemed reasonably necessary, including the following material factors: (i) the nature, extent, and quality of the services provided by the Advisor; (ii) investment performance of the Advisor; (iii) the costs of the services to be provided and profits to be realized by the Advisor and its affiliates from the relationship with the Fund; (iv) the extent to which economies of scale would be realized as the Fund grows and whether advisory fee levels reflect those economies of scale for the benefit of the Fund's investors; (v) the Advisor's practices regarding brokerage and portfolio transactions; and (vi) the Advisor's practices regarding possible conflicts of interest.

At the meeting, the Trustees reviewed various informational materials including, without limitation, the Investment Advisory Agreement for the Fund; a memorandum from the Advisor to the Trustees containing information about the Advisor, its business, its finances, its personnel, its services to the Fund, and comparative expense ratio information for other mutual funds with a strategy similar to the Fund; and a memorandum from the Fund's legal counsel that summarized the fiduciary duties and responsibilities of the Board of Trustees in reviewing and approving the Investment Advisory Agreement, including the types of information and factors that should be considered in order to make an informed decision.

In considering the nature, extent, and quality of the services provided by the Advisor, the Trustees considered the responsibilities of the Advisor under the Investment Advisory Agreement. The Trustees reviewed the services being provided by the Advisor to the Fund including, without limitation, the quality of its investment advisory services since the Fund's inception (including research and recommendations with respect to portfolio securities); its procedures for formulating investment recommendations and assuring compliance with the Fund's investment objectives and limitations; its coordination of services for the Fund among the Fund's service providers; and its efforts to promote the Fund, grow the Fund's assets, and assist in the distribution of Fund shares. The Trustees noted that the Advisor had recently retained a director of business development to increase Fund sales. The Trustees noted that the Advisor seeks to achieve the Fund's investment objectives of growth and preservation of capital by investing primarily in ETFs and secondarily in mutual funds based upon the Advisor's assessment of anticipated market direction in an attempt to outperform the S&P 500 Index. After reviewing the foregoing information and further information in the memorandum from the Advisor (e.g., descriptions of the Advisor's business, the Advisor's compliance program, and the Advisor's Form ADV), the Board concluded that the nature, extent, and quality of the services provided by the Advisor were satisfactory and adequate for the Fund.

In considering the investment performance of the Advisor, the Trustees compared the performance of the Fund with the performance of its benchmark index, comparable funds with similar objectives managed by other investment advisors, and applicable peer group data (e.g., Lipper peer group average). The Trustees noted that the Fund had commenced operations on October 1, 2014 and its one-year performance ended December 31, 2016 was lower than its peer group average (-5.20% vs. 1.60%). Its one-year performance ended December 31, 2016 was also lower than the returns of some of the comparable funds but higher than the returns of other comparable funds. The Trustees also considered the consistency of the Advisor's management of the Fund with its investment objective, policies and limitations. The Trustees also noted that the Fund's strategy was currently out of favor due to market conditions. After reviewing the short-term investment performance of the Fund, the Advisor's experience managing the Fund, the Advisor's historical investment performance, and other factors, the Board concluded that the investment performance of the Fund and the Advisor was satisfactory.

In considering the costs of the services to be provided and profits to be realized by the Advisor and its affiliates from the relationship with the Fund, the Trustees first noted that the management fee for the Fund under the Investment Advisory Agreement was 1.20% of average daily new assets. The Trustees evaluated the Advisor's staffing, personnel, and methods of operating; the education and experience of the Advisor's personnel; the Advisor's compliance program; the financial condition of the Advisor; the level of commitment to the Fund and the Advisor by the principals of the Advisor; the asset level of the Fund; and the overall expenses of the Fund, including certain prior fee waivers and reimbursements by the Advisor and the nature and frequency of advisory fee payments. The Trustees reviewed the financial statements for the Advisor and discussed the financial stability and profitability of the firm. The Advisor responded to several questions about the financial condition of the firm and reviewed a profitability analysis with the Trustees. The Trustees noted that the Advisor directly pays for certain expenses of the Fund under an Expense Limitation Agreement in order to help limit the Fund's annual operating expenses. The Trustees also considered potential benefits for the Advisor in managing the Fund, including promotion of the Advisor's name, the ability for the Advisor to place small accounts into the Fund, and the potential for the Advisor to generate soft dollars from Fund trades that may benefit the Advisor as well. The Trustees then compared the fees and expenses of the Fund (including the management fee) to other funds comparable in terms of the type of fund, the nature of its investment strategy, and its style of investment management, among other factors. The Trustees determined that the Fund's management fee was higher than the comparable funds and lower than the peer group average. The Trustees also determined that the Fund's net expense ratio was higher than the comparable funds and the peer group average. The Trustees noted that the Fund was much smaller than the peer group average. Following this comparison and upon further consideration and discussion of the foregoing, the Board concluded that the fees to be paid to the Advisor by the Fund were fair and reasonable in relation to the nature and quality of the services provided by the Advisor and that they reflected charges that were within a range of what could have been negotiated at arm's length.

In considering the extent to which economies of scale would be realized as the Fund grows and whether advisory fee levels reflect those economies of scale for the benefit of the Fund's investors, the Trustees reviewed the Fund's operational history and noted that the size of the Fund had not provided an opportunity to realize economies of scale. The Trustees then reviewed the Fund's fee arrangements for breakpoints or other provisions that would allow the Fund's shareholders to benefit from economies of scale in the future as the Fund grows. The Trustees determined that the maximum management fee would stay the same regardless of the Fund's asset levels and, therefore, did not reflect economies of scale. The Trustees noted that the Fund was a relatively small size and economies of scale were unlikely to be achievable in the near future. It was pointed out that breakpoints in the advisory fee could be reconsidered in the future. The Trustees noted that the Fund will benefit from economies of scale under the agreement with the Administrator since it utilized breakpoints. The Trustees also noted that the Advisor had agreed to make payments to the Administrator at lower asset levels in order to help limit the Fund's expenses. The Trustees determined that these arrangements provided potential savings for the benefit of the Fund's investors. Following further discussion of the Fund's asset levels, expectations for growth, and fee levels, the Board determined that the Fund's fee arrangements were fair and reasonable at the present time in relation to the nature and quality of the services provided by the Advisor.

In considering the Advisor's practices regarding brokerage and portfolio transactions, the Trustees reviewed the Advisor's standards, and performance in utilizing those standards, for seeking best execution for Fund portfolio transactions. The Trustees also considered the portfolio turnover rate for the Fund; the process by which evaluations are made of the overall reasonableness of commissions paid; the method and basis for selecting and evaluating the broker-dealers used; any allocation of portfolio business to persons affiliated with the Advisor; and the extent to which the Fund allocates portfolio business to broker-dealers who provide research, statistical, or other services (soft dollars). The Trustees noted, among other things, that the Fund rarely trades blocks of shares which require special handling and that the average commission rate for the Fund was approximately $0.01 per share. After further review and discussion, the Board determined that the Advisor's practices regarding brokerage and portfolio transactions were satisfactory.

In considering the Advisor's practices regarding conflicts of interest, the Trustees evaluated the potential for conflicts of interest and considered such matters as the experience and ability of the advisory personnel assigned to the Fund; the basis of decisions to buy or sell securities for the Fund and the Advisor's other accounts; the method for bunching of portfolio securities transactions; and the substance and administration of the Advisor's code of ethics. Following further consideration and discussion, the Board indicated that the Advisor's standards and practices relating to the identification and mitigation of possible conflicts of interests were satisfactory.

Based upon all of the foregoing considerations, the Board of Trustees, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, approved the Investment Advisory Agreement for the Fund.
